

The New Women's Center Entrance on Ransom Avenue

Delivering a Better Birthing Experience

Beginning Sunday, February 3, expectant moms and their partners who are going to Butterworth Hospital to give birth should use The Women's Center entrance on Ransom Avenue, instead of entering the hospital through the emergency department. The entrance will be open and staffed 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and will help to provide an enhanced birthing experience for you and your baby.

Patient Drop Off and Parking

Expectant moms can be dropped off at the circle drive in front of The Women's Center. They will be greeted and escorted to a dedicated area on Level A where our experienced nurses will assess you and your baby's progress.

The Women's Center, at the corner of Ransom Avenue and Crescent Street, is part of the Spectrum Health Medical Center in downtown Grand Rapids. If you have trouble finding The Women's Center entrance or have questions about parking, please call 616.391.1774.

Designated parking is available in Ramp 6 off Ransom Avenue for the expectant mom's partner. Visitors should park in Ramp 7 off Coit Avenue; parking validation is available.
